CURSE OF KING TUT

Every Man But One Entering Tut's
Tomb Marked by Death

Edgar Wallace, the English writer, in McCall's magazine, paints a terrifying picture of the tangible hate which hangs over the tombs of some of the Egyptian Kings. He follows the fate which has attended almost every excavator who molested the tomb of "King Tut." He says: "Some day we shall discover that hate and love are as material as the sun. Hate hangs over the valley of the Kings." There are ordinary people who carry with them an aura quantity X, which produces this aura is a mystery yet unsolved. And in King Tutankhamen's tomb was the supreme X which was death.

With Lord Carnarvon in his explorations at the tomb, were four officials. Of these only one is alive. When the tomb was opened, two other notables entered. One shivered and said: "I wish to God, Carnarvon had not found this tomb. Something dreadful is going to happen in our family." Before the year was out, he was dead.

When the door of the tomb was forced, Lord Carnarvon entered with a jest. Something stung him on the cheek. He was a dead man before the wonders of the tomb were fully revealed.

Evelyn White, Egyptologist and scholar, became a changed man after the tomb was opened. Within a year he committed suicide.

Sir Archibald Reid who x-rayed the mummy was dead within a year.

Professor Lafleur of McGill University, examined the chamber of death. He did not leave Tuxor alive.

Seven French journalists visited the tomb, six were dead within two years.

Wolf Joel visited the tomb and was dead within the year. Jay Gould was taken ill in the tomb and died.

When Tut was unveiled they found a mark on his face, identical with the mark on Lord Carnarvon's.

Only Howard Carter, of all the principals engaged in the work is still alive.

Old men, young men, men in the prime of life and best of health, have died mysteriously and tragically. Almost every workman has passed away.

The famous Dr. Marden prophesied that the opening of the tomb would bring death. He said "The Egyptians for 700 years possessed the secret of surrounding their mummies with a dynamic force of which we have only the least idea."

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Higgins of Vulcan, in Vulcan Municipal Hospital, on Monday, July 7, a son.

H. G. MacDonald of Edmonton has received the government contract for a second course of travelling on the highway between Nanton and Macleod, at 13 1/2 cents a yard, which is the lowest price ever secured by the department. Last year's prices ranged well over 20 cents.

AMUSING INCIDENT AT LAKE MCGREGOR

An amusing incident is vouched for by some of our friends who were at the U.F.A. sports at Lake McGregor last Wednesday. An Indian Brave, who was entered in the chariot race had left his team in such a position as to encroach on the football field, where Union Jack and Vulcan were to decide who was to take possession of the U.F.A. football cup for 1930. One of Vulcan's ardent supporters undertook to remove the team and chariot and mounted on the vehicle, proceeded to harangue the cayuses with the idea of having them move on in a peaceable manner. The cayuses, however, not having the advantages of a Scotch education, did not understand the erstwhile charioteer and proceeded to do some circus stunts much to the amusement of the assembly. After cutting up for a while they evidently decided that an Indian driver was preferable any day to a Scotchman and ran away. The charioteer jumped for his life, the team was caught, peace was restored, and the funniest incident in the whole day's events came to an end although one can still hear echoes of it around Vulcan.

Lake McGregor Picnic Excels Previous Record

Rain on the evening of July 1st made the roads bad in some districts and kept a few people from coming that intended to come, but on the picnic grounds only enough rain fell to settle the dust on the new playground that had been graded and arranged just in time to be completed by July 1st by the Municipal District of Marquis. All the grounds were in good condition except that for football which could not be used, but the old ground was in fairly good condition and there the game was played.

The management appreciate the effort of the councillors of Marquis Municipality in making their playgrounds and race track something to be proud of. Over two thousand people passed through the gate and between 750 and 800 cars were on the grounds. Even the weather man lent his aid for the day was perfect.

Our usual line of athletic sports opened the programme and the dance held in Queenstown community hall with Len Davis and his new orchestra, closed the day at 3 a.m. on July 3rd. Everyone seemed to be having a good time from start to finish and the refreshment booths were busy all the time. The four planes that arrived about 10 a.m. were busy all day and reported good business. Below is a list of the main events and winners:

Tug-of-War—East of Lake vs. West won by West.
Horse Shoes—Snyder and Hummon (Carmangay) first; Platt and Thompson (Brant) second.
Half Mile Open Race—Burke, Majorville, first; Wyatt, Union Jack, second.

ARGUMENT FOR GOOD ROADS

The Iowa State College has made the finding that it costs 2.37 cents more a mile to drive over rough roads than over good pavements. When a motorist travels 10,000 miles a year over rough roads it costs him just $227 more than if he were going over paved highways. Complaining taxpayers should meditate upon this finding of the Iowa State College.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH

"You are charged," said the judge "with beating up this government inspector. What have you to say?" "Nothing," replied the grocer. "I am guilty. I lost my head. All morning I held my temper while government agents inspected my scales, tasted my butter, smelled my meat, graded my kerosene. In addition, your honor, I had just answered three federal questionnaires. Then this bird came along and wanted to take moving pictures of my cheese and I pasted him in the eye."

WHY BE PROUD

The older generation of us was obliged in our youth to learn many moral and highly depressing verses, which didn't seem to mean much at the time. As we reap the harvests of experience however, scraps of verses leap out from the past into our memories startling us with their age-old truth.

Last week after the hailstorm we remembered that we once learned a poem at arting out "Oh why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" Why indeed.

After all, man's material success or failure lies only to an extent with himself. So many outside forces beat upon his efforts; so many elements over which he has no control, must enter into the final reckoning. Builds he never so wisely nor so well, he can never be sure of success. And if he gains success he can never say: "I did it all myself." So why be proud.

He sows his seed with infinite toil. He may reap a harvest, or he may see his crop devastated with hail or frost.

He may invest his money to the best of his judgment, but stocks may crash.

If he be a public man, he may be on the crest of popularity, when some stealthy whisper may ruin him. He may not even take undue pride in his health and fine physical condition. For tomorrow he may be laid low.

To be sure outside forces cannot interfere in a man's spiritual attainment. He could take pride in his growth in grace, except for the fact that any growth of this nature tends toward a complete humility.

As far as any material success is concerned, every day produces a multitude of reasons that the spirit of mortal dare not be proud.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE PAPERS

There are ten daily papers in Canada not published in English or French, which means that one out of about ten or eleven of our newspapers appeal to other races than the two which have considered themselves up till this time as directing national ideal.

There is another startling fact. There are only eleven French daily papers printed in Canada—just one more than the total of the non-English dailies.

From the above it may be gauged that Canada's melting pot has a lot of work to do if this country is to be as English and French as it was a few years ago.

Victoria and Vancouver have one Chinese daily each, and Toronto has two; Vancouver has two Jap dailies; Winnipeg and Toronto have each a Jewish and Sui-bury prints one in Finnish. There are in addition some 38 weekly papers not printed in either English or French. The claimed circulation of these run from 1650 to 60,000. Winnipeg prints about half of them, although Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver and Edmonton are well represented.—Sault Star.

The continued falling in the price of stocks on the American market will undoubtedly react on Canada's tourist trade.

The time is now at hand when many boys will go to the beach to get tanned by a process much preferable to the manner in which it is done at home.

RELATIVE VALUES

Dairy butter struck a very low ebb on Saturday when it was bought locally over the counter for twenty cents a pound. Cream also is said to command a similarly low price at present. Although purchasers hail with gratitude a drop in price of any household necessity, to anyone who knows the labor and processes involved in placing good quality dairy butter on the market, twenty cents a pound is not sufficient return. On the other hand twenty cents is entirely too much for a proportion of the dairy butter which finds its way to market.

All farm products appear to have sunk to a much lower scale of value than the products of other industries. Wheat, eggs, butter, cream, all command low prices, yet there is little drop in the other commodities which the farmer has to buy. Groceries, bread, fruit, clothing, boots have not followed the downward drop of wheat. It is true that very reasonable prices in dry goods, etc., have prevailed locally this season, but even this may mean that the local merchant himself is taking the cut.

If all the manufactures and products of the country, should follow the prices governing wheat, there would be a stability and uniformity that does not prevail at present.

Twenty cents a pound for butter might have been a good price in former times, when boots, fruit, clothing could be bought proportionately cheaply. But under present conditions, it is not a fair reward, much as we would like it to continue.

SILENT PREFERRED

The British public is said to be in revolt against the talkies, and to clamor for a return of the 'old silents. Orchestras which disbanded from theatres, are returning as the people are tiring of canned music. They can get greater varieties of music they say, from an orchestra. To this must be added the British objection to the tones of inferior American actors, and the fact that romance is often destroyed rather than heightened by talking.

The real trouble however, is that talkies were over boomed and the public after boosting the box offices tremendously, have fallen off in interest.

The tendency toward revue entertainment in the talkies will probably die out in favor of strict film entertainment, and as far as the silents are concerned, they are now doing much better than for many months.

EMBLEM OF ROSE

The choice of the wild rose as Alberta's emblem, was arrived at in the first place by a general province-wide vote taken by a leading women's organization in Alberta. The rose proved to be pre-eminently the popular choice as emblematic of the province. This conclusion was then presented to the Legislature, consideration was given the matter, and on Dominion Day 1930, the wild rose has become officially Alberta's emblem.

It is doubtful if any one will dispute the suitability of this choice. There is not a part of Alberta where the wild rose is not found. It grows in foothill and on prairie, in north and south. It is rugged, staunch and enduring. In flower it is beautiful and fragrant. All in all the choice is most appropriate.

WANT WOMANLY WOMEN

A club was recently formed in the United States 100 young men whose slogan is "Better Girls." They will refuse to have anything to do with members of the fair sex who drink, use forcible language and pet. What they desire is a return of the womanly woman and after all that is the class every decent man most desires for the partner of his home.

ALBERTA SUGAR

It is generally recognized that the sugar produced by the Canadian Sugar Factory at Raymond, Alberta, is superb. Authorities agree that beet sugar makes the best jelly and preserves and with the approach of the canning season, readers of this paper should insist from now on in having only Alberta sugar sold them. Speaking to our merchants recently on the merits of this sugar, all expressed themselves as highly gratified with its qualities for table and cooking uses. Without hesitation they recommend it to all customers. The Alberta sugar industry supplies work for 700 farmers and 1500 beet workers, besides 300 factory hands. Today this industry is faced with the problem of having 9,000,000 lbs. of pure Alberta sugar on hand which must be sold before October 1930 when the new crop of beets comes on the market. This means that at least 20,000 bags of 100 lbs. each must be sold every month from now on till Oct. 1930.

If the consumer demands Alberta sugar it will help to keep this industry busy.

Marguerite Austin, who heads the orchestra, is a distinguished British violinist, a licentiate of the Royal Academy of Music, London, and a graduate of the Brussels Conservatory. She is a charming and entertaining personality, as well as a finished artist.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

For stealing gasoline from the Wellington oil well in Turner Valley recently, Clarence Morris was fined $25 and costs. The gasoline was unrefined and was only worth $10.

In the leading industries of Ontario the automobile industry is first, flour mills second, meat packing third. Ontario accounts for about 50 per cent. of the value of all the meat products of Canada.

The world will be hanging out a "Full House" sign soon, according to the International Statistics Institute, which states that the population of the world now exceeds 2,000,000,000, an increase of 400,000,000 in twenty years.

INTERESTING FACTS

Why the General Electric Refrigerator Places Their Mechanism "On the Top"

At the Calgary Stampede parade on Monday, July 7th many people had a good laugh at the old fashioned automobile that putt-putted along the street, the smoke from the exhaust rising and choking the occupants being only one of the many drawbacks to this old fashioned type of conveyance. The thought arises. Why did they not put the motor out in front where it belongs? Why did they put a whip holder and a dashboard similar to the buggy style in front when there was no horse to drive? The answer is very simple. When the first motor vehicle was made it was called a horseless carriage. People would not reconcile themselves to ride in anything that was not conventional. It did not matter if economy was brushed aside, comfort put in the discard and practical common sense not bothered with. People had for years been accustomed to buggies and that is the principle that had to be followed in the general construction of the horseless carriage. It was not long however before a few far-seeing engineers came to the conclusion that if the horseless carriage was going to be a common means of conveyance new principles had to be evolved. The result can be seen today. The motor is out in front where it belongs and the old conventions have been discarded for the sake of economy, comfort and efficiency.

For years the only refrigerators in use where the conventional ice boxes and it was by this standard that the first electrical refrigerators were built. Strictly conventional. For nearly twenty years this type of electric refrigerator was predominant on the American market. During this time engineers at the General Electric factories were being given a problem, they had to invent a refrigerator that would be absolutely fool proof, one that would never give the housewife any trouble.

The specifications were to be as follows: absolutely no oiling, no servicing, no stuffing boxes, absolutely no chance of gas leaks, a cabinet that would last fifty years or more, a refrigerator with an interior of pure porcelain that would be easy to keep clean and above all, a refrigerator that would cost only half as much to operate.

The result was, after fifteen years of research work, a cost of ten million dollars and eventually after hundreds of engineers had worked on scores of models, the unit on top was perfected.

All the specifications had been adhered to, the refrigerator would run indefinitely without oiling or any service and at half the cost. The nearest thing to perpetual motion had been discovered. An unheard of thing was now ready for the market. An hermetically sealed motor and chilling unit. The motor was to run in a vacuum with dirt, heat and air sealed out and efficiency sealed in. There was only one place to put it, and there it went, defying all conventional laws of the old fashioned ice box, no whip holder and no buggy dash board, but an article that would give years of faultless service. The proof of this lies in the fact that with nearly a million users in the United States and Canada, not one has spent a cent for service.

Most housewives feel that there is some little point which they may improve in the use of their electric ranges. And on Saturday they will have the opportunity of learning the answer to many of these vexing little matters.

THINGS THEY MAKE

Many Useful Articles Made From So-called Waste Products

Sugar cane waste is made into rayon. The crushed cane stalks make very fine paper, but paper is already supplied cheaply. There is a growing market for rayon, and so much is converted to rayon.

The Simmons bed company is making bedsteads from peanut shells. Zalmite is their new product made up into furniture from creosote, asphalt, peanuts shells, old burlap and other waste material. It is strong and takes a fine color.

The Ford car junking plant in Detroit is proving so successful that Ford is said to be negotiating for an 80 acre site near Buffalo. He will buy junked cars ship them to Buffalo and reduce them to usable metals in electric furnaces.

In the recent drop in copper prices, the increasing amount of reclaimed copper plays an important part. An immense amount of copper and its alloys have been reclaimed. The same is true of lead, which forms such an important part of the radio and motor industry. There is now 95 per cent. recovery of lead from old battery grids.

At Mercury, 5 fishing has been stopped and already 40 feet of new hole has been made.

Charles C. Collins of Aurora, Ill., claimed a new world record recently for low parachute drop, when he made a successful landing from an altitude of 800 feet during the Saskatoon air meet. Collins also claimed the previous record of 900 feet.

RESCUING THE FARM

The Popular American Pastime of Explaining to the Farmer What is Wrong With Him

Some one is always solving the problem of the farmer. Particularly in the United States, the farmer has everybody working on his case, and printing reams of good advice.

Sinclair Lewis is one of the latest to take a hand, and as usual he has still another viewpoint. He says that the farmer has been a great example of what psychologists call an "escapist." He avoids the complications of too complex associations, by fleeing to the simpler life.

But there is rising a new class of farmer who is fighting to make his life not an escape, but an accomplishment. A number of agencies have risen, through which farmers now work together. Various combinations have been formed. But so far there has not been a combination of farmers themselves.

Here is a possible combination: three hundred farmers with an average of 200 acres each, forming a 60,000 acre farm. This is a plot nine miles by ten. In the centre is a village in which the three hundred farmers' families and hired men live. Here are comfortable cottages, community laundries, school, stores, movies, doctor, etc. The workers are taken to work in a community bus. Would it pay?

Well, which would pay Mr. Ford better to manufacture his cars by hand in houses a mile apart, or all in one vast shop? Essentially there is no difference. The same principle is involved whether you manufacture wheat or flour; milk or cheese; wool or woollen clothes.

Is it more economical for several farmers to combine in buying some piece of part time machinery, or for each to buy one and let it stand idle part of the year?

It is all a question of which method pays. Whether farmers are actually willing to work together, or will continue to be individualists and escapist.

INCREASE DELIVERY

Turner Valley oil deliveries for June show 3000 barrels in excess of May deliveries. The Alberta Federated Oils and Homestead have been the new June wells to boost the output. Okalta 1 is back to full production of 250 barrels daily. The official report follows:

PENSIONS CHANGE

There has been a provision in the Pensions Act of Canada that if a veteran accepted a lump sum in lieu of pension, this decision must be regarded as ending the matter unless he can prove his disability has become greater in extent. The Government has now altered this clause so that if the veteran's pensionable disability has persisted, even if it has not increased, he may be restored to pension payments, if continued, would have amounted to the sum which was paid him.

That is, the "commuted" pension payment accepted by any veteran is now to be regarded as installments of pension paid in advance, and not as a discharge of the nation's entire obligation toward him. It is surely a wise and just provision.—Toronto Star.

REASSURANCE

Government Will Give Encouragement to Oil Development

Premier Brownlee gives assurance to interviewers that the policy of the government will be fair and equitable to oil operators and all for the encouragement of development.

Oil operators entering Alberta at the present time need have no fears as to the policy that will be followed in the administration of the oil and gas resources of the province by the Alberta government.

The existing regulations covering oil and gas leases, said the premier, will be continued undisturbed, but, of course, will be subject to any changes that may be considered advisable, after a careful study of conditions. Certainly, said Mr. Brownlee, any new requirements imposed will not be retroactive and oil operators need have no worry.

The transfer of the natural resources, he said, would be completed some time this fall. There has been some hesitation on the part of operators, some of them large, fully financed companies, as to entering the Alberta field in view of the pending transfer of the natural resources from federal to provincial control. The announcement of Premier Brownlee should remove any such concern.

Profits from the sale of liquor by the Alberta government will not be shared with municipalities, Premier Brownlee definitely and positively told a delegation from the Alberta Union of Municipalities, that waited upon him recently.

Three months ago a large lake which included the property of 21 acres of rolling waste and the laying of approximately 12 miles of new track, terminated June 5 when the Canadian Pacific Railway finished the construction of "Fitz City," Toronto, for the accommodation of the huge army of Shriners who held their convention in that city recently.

Lake Minnewanka, famous sheet of water in the Canadian Rockies, not far from Banff, has entered angling history with the capture recently of the largest trout ever taken from the lake. It weighed 40 lbs. 8 ounces and was 41 inches in length and 32 inches in girth. It has been stuffed and is now in the Banff museum.

The immensity of the progress made and the almost boundless prosperity he sees ahead for Canada has brought home to him the great need for the awakening of England to a better understanding of the Dominion, was the statement made recently by Major L. A. M. Jones, economic supplements editor of the Morning Post, London, England, who is making a several months tour of Canada studying conditions here.

A new queen of the Pacific will be crowned August 21 to a former queen of the seas when the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan, new 26,000 ton flagship of the company's Pacific fleet, steams through the Narrows to receive Vancouver's vociferous applause. Just before reaching Brockton Point the new Empress, gay with flags and bunting, will dip her ensign to the dragon-carved figurehead which rests on its pedestal in Stanley Park overlooking the waters of Burrard Inlet. The figurehead is that of the old Empress of Japan, scrapped and sold in 1922 after 31 years of service between Canada and the Orient.

Impressively simple ceremonies were held at Fort William recently for the late F. E. Trautman, for the past 18 years Canadian Pacific Press representative in Western Canada. He was buried in the city where a large part of his career as a pioneer western newspaperman was passed as editor of the Fort William Times-Journal. The cities of Port Arthur and Fort William were officially represented as was also the railway company while a large number of private citizens paid their last respects.

Twenty-two days will be occupied by the annual tour across Canada to be conducted by Dean Sinclair Laird, of Macdonald College, when his party leaves the Windsor Street Station, Montreal, by special train over Canadian Pacific lines on Sunday, July 20. This year will be the seventh trip conducted by Dean Laird and, as in past years, will include automobile drives over the famous Banff-Windermere highway and from Field, via the Yoho Valley, to Lake Louise, as well as steamer trips across the Kootenay Lake to Nelson; from Vancouver to Victoria; and on the Great Lakes steamships from Fort William to Port McNicoll.

Spring seeding in the west is proceeding at a rapid pace, according to report at the end of April from the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Winnipeg. Taking the three prairie provinces as a whole it was then estimated that 43 per cent. of wheat seeding is completed, with some districts in southeastern Alberta reporting between 50 and 65 per cent. finished. Heavy showers have somewhat retarded progress in north-western Saskatchewan.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Meat and dairy products are increasing in popularity on the daily menu of the people of Canada. The per capita consumption of meat is eight per cent. greater than in 1920 and the total quantity of meat consumed annually in the Dominion has increased 20 per cent. in the last 10 years.

Ontario tops the list of Canadian provinces with fatalities at level crossings during the past three years according to Arthur Gaboury, secretary-general of the Province of Quebec Safety League. His figures show 71 deaths in 1928; 78 in 1929 and 16 to the end of May, 1930. These compare with 29 7 and 7 for Quebec in the same periods. The greatly reduced numbers in the case of Quebec are attributed, says Mr. Gaboury, to the observance of the law in that province calling upon cars to stop when reaching a crossing, whether a train is in sight or not.

Tight Atlantic silver sea-run salmon are entering New Brunswick angling waters in greater numbers than ever this year, according to reports from wardens reaching the provincial department of Lands and Mines. On the Restigouche River catches of 28-lb. and 25-lb. salmon have been made.

PREMIER SPEAKS

Great Mass Meeting in Calgary, Enthusiastic Crowd, Also Hecklers

More than 5000 people assembled Thursday evening in the Victoria Park pavilion, Calgary, to hear Prime Minister MacKenzie King and a huge mass meeting overflowed into the arena.

Unfortunately the Premier was subjected to steady interruption which at times threatened the continuance of his address. Eventually the most rabid heckler was removed and after this, the trouble makers subsided.

It was in the treatment of unemployment that the interruptions waxed most fierce. Apparently a number of unemployed were present, and took this method of making their presence known. It was a regrettable discourtesy to the head of a Canadian government, and left an unhappy impression of a Calgary audience, not only in the city itself, but with the thousands of radio listeners all over the country.

Touching recent phases of legislation, Mr. King based his appeal on the past record of the government, on the improved financial position of the country in that time, on the favorable reaction to the Dunning budget both in Canada and Britain, and the effect of this legislation in enlarging markets and increasing unemployment in many lines of industry.

"Whenever I am duly notified by the Alberta Government," said the Premier, "that the problem of unemployment has assumed too great magnitude for it to handle, the federal government will be willing to step in and take the necessary steps for the immediate relief of the situation. Up to the present time no such official intimation has been received. May I say that the whole question of matters of unemployment in factories, workshops and mines, comes under the provincial government. We have given during our term of office, a total of $35,000,000 to Alberta alone, in subsidies, grants and various forms of relief. The present government has written off $36,000,000 for men who have settled on farms and have not been able to meet obligations. As a federal government we have felt it is our first duty to look after those who so ably served during the Great War.

Hon. Chas. Stewart

Hon. Charles Stewart spoke in high praise of the work of the Premier, whose object has been to maintain a unified Canada and the transfer of the Natural Resources is one phase in which provinces and dominion have effectively worked together.

Referring to results already evident from the Dunning budget, Mr. Stewart said: "Now we find in Great Britain that the people are being asked to consume only such bread as contains 85 per cent. Canadian wheat. Our budget was framed in relationship to the Imperial Conference, and before taking it upon ourselves to present it before the Conference we went to the people for the mandate.

OIL STOCK VALUES

Dividend Paying Possibilities of Some Turner Valley Oil Stocks

No class of stocks in Canada or elsewhere where today can show earning ability and dividend possibilities comparable with several Turner Valley oil stocks at prevailing market prices, states a bulletin issued by Solloway, Mills & Co. Ltd.

Numerous Turner Valley oil companies are earning today at a rate running between 25 and 90 per cent. of the issued stock valuation at present prices.

Calculations based on prices on the Calgary Stock Exchange, June 18 the latest official production figures available from Turner Valley, issued shares and after deductions have been made covering royalty obligations, reveal earning power or dividend possibilities of very substantial magnitude.

Following are some examples of the earnings from production at the present market valuations of the companies:

Freehold 91 per cent.
Wellington 85 per cent.
Model 75 per cent.
Southwest Pete 63 per cent.
British Dominion 62 per cent.
Mercury 39 per cent.
Home 27 per cent.

Details of how these figures were arrived at follow:
Freehold: Shares issued, 850,000; present price per share, 25c; market valuation, $212,500; daily production, 175 barrels, plus; rate of annual income (175 bbls. at $3.50 per bbl.) $223,362, deducting 1-8 royalty leaves $195,442; earning percentage, 91 per cent, plus.

Model: Shares issued, 820,000; present price per share, 18c; market valuation, $147,600; daily production 100 barrels, plus; rate of annual income (100 bbls. at $3.30 per bbl.) $127,750, deducting 1-8 royalty leaves $111,000; earning percentage, 75 per cent, plus.

Wellington: Shares issued, 401,000 present price per share 65c; market valuation $260,650; daily production, 200 barrels, plus; rate of annual income (200 bbls. at $3.50 per bbl.) $255,500, deducting 1-8 royalty leaves $223,563; earning percentage, 85 per cent, plus.

Southwest Pete: Shares issued, 500,000; present price per share, 35c; market valuation, $175,000; daily production, 100 barrels, plus; rate of annual income (100 bbls. at $3.50 per bbl.) $127,750 deducting 1-8 royalty leaves $111,000; earning percentage, 63 per cent, plus.

British Dominion: Shares issued, 546,650; present price, per share 30c; market valuation $163,995; daily production, 100 barrels, plus; rate of annual income (100 bbls. at $3.50 per bbl.) $127,750, deducting 1-5 royalty, leaves $102,200; earning percentage, 62 per cent, plus.

Mercury: Shares issued 2,782,042; present price per share, 30c; market valuation $834,612; daily production, 300 barrels; rate of annual income (300 barrels at $3.50 per bbl.) $383,250, deducting 20 per cent. royalty on 100 bbls, 12 1-2 per cent. royalty on 200 barrels leaves $325,763; earning percentage, 39 per cent. plus.

Home: Shares issued 880,000; present price per share, $4.50; market valuation, $3,960,000; production monthly (5 months average, 1930), 30,000 barrels; rate of annual income, $1,260,000 deducting 1-15 royalty plus 10 per cent. on wells, excepting No. 1, leaves $1,086,000; earning percentage, 27 per cent. plus. (Home also has 12 1-2 per cent. royalty from Freehold, amounting to about $25,550 annually plus 25 per cent. royalty on Hargill).

It will be noted in the above that a straight price of $3.50 per barrel has been used, although the price for crude naphtha is $3.69 per barrel. Also production is figured on 100 barrels only where it is 110 or 120 barrels daily, such as Model and British Dominion. It is likely that Mercury 2 and 3 will do better than a total of 300 barrels.

Radio continues to advance in popular favor in Canada. At the end of March, 1930, there were 423,557 radio receiving licenses issued by the Canadian Government radio branch of the Department of Marine, compared with 256,326 on March 31, 1929, an increase of 126,631 in the 12 months.

TRAIN CHARACTER

Extracts from Paper Given Before W. C. T. U., Cayley

Many pertinent facts were presented by Mrs. A. White, W.C.T.U. president, in her address at the Convention at Cayley a couple of weeks ago. Her thoughts on training and education are worthy of attention. She says: "The battle for temperance will always remain a test of man's individual strength of character. In two most prominent respects there has been a decline in training of individual character! First, people generally have become careless about religion; second, parents are neglecting to train their children."

"Whatever the figures of church membership, people do not take their religion as seriously as their forefathers. They do not attend church services so regularly; they keep aloof from church influence, are less moved by religious motives than any previous generation in our history; their consciences are not being trained."

Closely related to this and dependent on it, is that parents are more and more careless in training their children. The modern parents are so busy with the frivolities of life that they do not give much time to the training of their children. How many teach their children to pray, to obey their conscience? How many teach that they must obey the commandments of God or be guilty of sin? How many speak of such things to their children? Very few.

"They are too busy feverishly keeping pace with the whirl of times, to bother teaching and disciplining their children. Besides there are schools and organizations to train the children, so why worry."

"The schools and clubs cannot teach religion. The result is inevitable, the growing children are not taught religion. The rule is clear As the influence of religion decreases intemperance increases; as religion increases, intemperance decreases. This is a truth confirmed through the history of the human race."

Popular Play "Pollyanna"
Coming to Canadian Chautauqua

SCENE FROM "POLLYANNA"

One of the most inspiring plays ever written is "Pollyanna," which comes to the Canadian Chautauqua here this season. Based on Eleanor Porter's famous novel by the same name, this captivating comedy-drama possesses a certain whimsical charm that reminds one of Barrie's beautiful plays. A well-known critic says: "Pollyanna" is one of those rare plays which are likely to become institutions of the stage like "Peter Pan."

"Pollyanna" abounds in fun and humor. There is not a dull moment in the four acts through which the lovable little heroine pursues her way, spreading her philosophy of gladness and winning the hearts of all whom she meets. It will be presented here by the Martin Erwin Players of Canada.
